

43 AMOG

MISSION BRIEF

CI2- Innovation/Continuous Process Improvement

Mission:

Create transformative opportunities and foster a culture of innovation to solve problems and enhance mission effectiveness.

Vision:

Enable thoughtful, deliberate, and ground-up innovation across Team Pope.

Priorities:

Develop a Network of Innovators, Expedite the Refining Process, Integrate Efforts and Foster Innovation

Who we are: We are an installation-level organization dedicated to the development of ideas and aiding teams to operate more efficiently. We serve as a “one-stop-shop” connecting Airmen, leadership, and organizations with resources that support innovative approaches to the everyday challenges found within our Air Force.

What we do: We develop and maintain a network of Airmen innovators across the installation. This enables thoughtful, deliberate, ground-up innovation across the 43 AMOG to uncover opportunities, improve capabilities, connect & engage the right stakeholders, & facilitate the implementation of future solutions today.

Who we support:

We work directly with Team Pope units, as well as the Fort Liberty Innovation Lab, and we are immersed into the greater North Carolina innovation ecosystem.

How we tie into the greater mission:

We empower Airmen across the installation to improve processes by reducing manhours and saving resources while completing the mission more efficiently.

Our accomplishments:

We successfully integrated with Tenant Units on two funded small Business Innovation Research Grants totaling $5M. As the Wing Process Managers, we have successfully raised Greenbelt Trained individuals to the AFI mandated 5% of personnel in 6 of 7 Pope Squadrons. We were also the only AMC base to be 90% allocated in SIF spending before 4QFY23.

Our challenges:

Knowledge of the Spark Ecosystem is critical and suffers due to the Gryphon Spark positions being one-year tours. SSgt Cody Ambrose and SSgt Christie McQueen just took over as Chief of Innovation and Chief of Process Improvement 1 August, and look forward to getting their feet wet while working with Team Pope on all things Innovation and Process Improvement.

WHERE WE ARE GOING...

We will continue to be a reliable resource to all Airmen across Team Pope. We will foster a culture of innovation by integrating numerous DoD-wide efforts and applying them to outdated processes. We will empower Airmen by equipping them with the right tools to ensure efficiency in mission accomplishment.
